

Fig. S1. Variable tree with three levels: 1) location of sampling 2) gender of individuals 3) number of trunks. The numbers in each square represent the total number of the individuals in the specific group and their proportion in relation to the size of the previous level.